Gym fire saddens many, investigation begins

BY D.C. HARVILL
A federally assisted investigation has begun into the cause of a fire which consumed the St. Josephs Academy Gym adjacent to Our Lady of the Gulf Church in Bay St. Louis Wednesday night.

The investigation which began Friday morning was called to a halt early that afternoon as Hurricane Florence drew near the Coast.

A track hoe rented by the Merchants Bank, the owner of the unoccupied building, was used Friday morning to remove the buildings collapsed and twisted metal framework, so investigators from the U.S. Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms and several coastal counties could begin the search for evidence.

"We are trying to find the cause and origin of the fire," said Hancock County Fire Marshal Jay Marsh, "but at this time we don't have much on it."

"Based on who owned the building the A.T. and F. has been brought in to investigate," Bay Deputy Police Chief Mark Ohman said. "Merchants Bank has signed a release to have them investigate," he added.

"We are a small department with limited resources so by calling in the A.T. and F. people we are trying to use all the resources available to us," he said.

Friday morning officer David Sellier of Bay Police videotaped the site from a Harrison County Sheriff's Department helicopter. The video will be analyzed by the investigators to help determine the origin of the fire.

The investigators were afraid that if they didn't find the cause Friday, evidence would be lost to heavy rains from Hurricane Florence.

When they stopped working at the site Friday they had not found what they were looking for, Marsh said.

The building had become the center of much concern in the community recently after artifacts believed associated with satanic worship were found there.

"A.T. and F. and local officers have been trained in the occult," Ohman said. "If it is satanic certain symbols will be in place and if they are found we will be able to determine if they are in fact satanic."

"At this time it is just a general arson investigation, trying to determine where it started and we will piece it together from there."

Bay Police has some possible suspects, according to Chief Ray Murphy.

The biggest concern at the time of the fire which broke out at about 8 p.m. was for other buildings.

"Embers were so thick we could hardly see the sky," said Bay Fire Chief Andrew Lizana.

"We had to keep O.L.G.(Church) hosed down. We concentrated on any exposure of other buildings in the area."

Approximately 55 firefighters from six fire departments

Hancock County was prepared for the worst when Hurricane Florence breezed through early Saturday morning but reports later in the day indicate it caused no major damage.

The Civil Defense, Hancock County Supervisors and Sheriff's, Waveland and Bay St. Louis Police Departments all reported that no major damage had been done by the storm.

When the storm moved through, the eye passing between Waveland and Slidell between 3 and 4 a.m. Saturday, winds in the Bay-Waveland area winds were estimated at 65 miles per hour and the tide was approximately five feet above normal, according to Civil Defense Director Bobby Boudin.

Boudin said his office has had no reports of damage, but if anyone did suffer damage they need to report it first thing Monday morning.

At 3 a.m. waves were rolling across Beach Road between Nicholson and Coleman Avenues. Water was knee-deep on Terrace Street behind the Waveland American Legion Hall.

The road between Sears Avenue and Bayou Cadet, at that time, due to high water, was impassable to normal traffic.

County road foreman Bill Johnson said there only had been some damage to Beach Road.

County and city crews were out early Saturday clearing sand and debris which had washed onto Beach Road. At several spots between Nicholson Avenue and Bayou Cadet banks of sand covered the road.

Coast Electric Power Association reported only minor damage from the hurricane. General Manager Roert Occhi stated the extent of the damage was less than was experience during

Tropical Storm Beryl

As of 7 a.m. Saturday, Coast Electric crews were in Pearl River and Bayou de l'Est replacing several poles damaged by the storm.

"Anyone still without power today should call us," Occhi said. "Occhi also remind everyone to use caution when trimming trees and limbs near electrical lines."

Election qualifying ends, over 30 return petitions

BY DENA BISNETTE

More than 30 candidates turned in their qualifying petitions for the local elections by the 5 p.m. Friday deadline, according to Circuit Clerk Pam Metzler.

The elections will be conducted with the November general election.

The most popular races appeared to be the two special elections for supervisor, whose winners will succeed the interim appointees who took over as a result of "Operation Pretense".

The Beat Three race attracted 12 candidates, including Margaret Ladner, Howard Lizana, Lisa LeBon Cowand, Keith Shaw, Roger Joe Ladner, Hilda L. Bourg, Clifton Saucier, W.B. "Bill" Whitfield, James J. Kasper, Florence C. Gorman, Charles C. Scianna and Lloyd Anderson.

Nine people turned in qualifying petitions for Beat Four supervisor, including Jim Odom, Albert D. Biehl III, Kelvin "Big E." Schulz, Harry J. Farve, Martin A. DeSalvo Jr., Wilmer E. Seymour, John W. Wilkerson, Billie Fay Lyons and James E. Drummond.

The school board races were less popular, with only two candidates in Beat Three, incumbent Carol Bustetter and Johnnie Richard.

K.L. Sones was the only person who turned in a petition for the Beat Four school board seat.

Three incumbent election commissioners, James A. Ladner Jr. in Beat One, Betsy N. Nolan in Beat Three and Eugene Dillmann in Beat Four, have no potential opponents. In Beat Two, incumbent Francis Lee and Sandra Garber turned in qualifying petitions, as did incumbent Charles F. Gottschalk and Floyd J. Breaux Sr. in Beat Five.

While everyone else was going home early to prepare for the onset of Hurricane Florence, Metzler stayed in her office until 5 p.m. to allow candidates the full amount of time to qualify specified under state law.

State Highway Dept. contributes to litter prevention fund

Mississippi is beginning an aggressive program of litter prevention under a contract recently signed between the Mississippi State Highway Department and Keep Mississippi Beautiful, Inc. (KMB Inc.), a non-profit corporation dedicated to preserving and enhancing Mississippi's physical image.

Highway Department Director John Tabb said the contract was authorized by the 1988 Mississippi Legislature. A bill sponsored by Sens. Glen Deweese of Meridian, Jack Gordon of Okolona, Bill Canon of Columbus and Robert Monty of Greenville authorized the Highway Department to contribute $100,000 of highway maintenance funds to the Litter Prevention Fund and oversee the development and implementation of a statewide anti-litter program by KMB Inc. In addition, the law also restructured litter fines by reducing the dollar amount to a $10-$25 fee. When an offender is fined, he must also pay an assessment equal to the litter fee that will be placed in the Litter Prevention Fund.

Tabb said KMB Inc. is seeking tax-deductible contributions from the private sector to assist in operating the program.

According to provisions in the contract, KMB Inc. is required to: establish a statewide communication program in an effort to increase public awareness and concern for Mississippi's litter problem; serve as a state clearinghouse for information on ideas and projects that will make local litter prevention programs more effective; and encourage and assist local communities to become certified in the Keep America Beautiful System.

Tabb said in the first year the national Keep America Beautiful System reported litter reductions in certified communities by an average of 32 percent and within five years as much as 80 percent.

A special committee of KMB Inc. has been selected to direct the program with Mrs. Chauncey R. Godwin of Tupelo acting as chairman.

Godwin has served as chairman of the Tupelo Beautification Commission since its creation in 1968. She is a member of the board of directors for both the Garden Club of Mississippi

Inc., and the National Council of State Garden Clubs, for which she serves as Deep South Region Air Quality chairman and National Civic Development chairman.

Godwin recently received a National Take Pride in America award for work to conserve natural resources in Mississippi from Secretary of the Interior Donald Paul Hodel in ceremonies at the White House.

According to Godwin, an office and staff will be available soon to coordinate the program and to distribute information.

VA begins review of radiation claims

The VA has begun reviewing disability compensation claims for veterans exposed to radiation while on active duty, and their survivors, according to Jeff R. Ryker, Jackson VA Regional Office Director. Recent legislation liberalized claims procedures and authorized payments to radiation-exposed veterans suffering from any of 13 types of cancer, and their survivors.

To qualify for disability compensation the disease must be rated 10 percent or more disabling and the veteran must have been exposed in one of three active duty situations: participating in a test atmospheric detonation of a nuclear device (or were present at the test site within six months following a test); serving occupation duty in Hiroshima or Nagasaki, Japan, between August 6, 1945, and July 1, 1946, or exposure while a prisoner of war in Japan.

Claims involving the 13 cancers already on file with the VA are being reviewed for eligibility. Other claims may be filed from veterans who were in areas of possible exposure.

The diseases automatically assumed by the law to qualify for compensation are leukemia other than chronic lymphocytic leukemia, thyroid, breast, pharynx, esophagus, stomach, small intestine, pancreas, multiple myeloma, lymphomas except Hodgkin's disease, bile duct, gall bladder, and liver except when cirrhosis or hepatitis B is indicated.

The law restricts compensation to those veterans whose disease became evident within 40 years of exposure, beginning on the last date on which the veteran participated in a radiation-risk activity, except for leukemia, which has a 30-year limit.

Monthly compensation payments to veterans range from $71 to $1,411. Additional amounts may be awarded for certain severe disabilities. For survivors, benefits range from $518 to $1,327 a month, depending upon the pay grade of the veteran while on active duty.

Veterans or survivors with claims already on file are being considered for disability compensation. Other veterans exposed to radiation should file a claim immediately or call the regional office toll free on 1-800-682-5270 for further information and assistance.

New facility to open during minor storms

BY ELLIS CUEVAS
The Hancock County Fairgrounds building will be open for residents having to leave their homes during minor storms.

Robert Boudin, Bay-Waveland, Hancock County Civil Defense director said Thursday, he has received permission to use the facility whenever necessary from the Hancock County Board of Supervisors.

Boudin stated, "In subdivisions bordering Highway 603, residents park their vehicles alongside the highway during exceptionally high tides, and this is a very dangerous practice. There is a very large parking area by the Fairgrounds building for these people to now use."

"There will also be a county representative at the building during these disturbances to aid those who have to flee their homes," Boudin added. Regular shelter rules and regulations will apply whenever it is necessary to use the Fairgrounds facility.

In case of a major storm, other facilities will be used as hurricane shelters, Boudin emphasized.

The shelters for a major hurricane include Bay Junior High and St. Rose de Lima School in Bay St. Louis; Waveland Elementary in Waveland; Annunciation School, Barks and Hancock North Central.

In the event of other facilities filling, other shelters will be named.

The Civil Defense main office is located in the back section of the Hancock County Courthouse in Bay St. Louis, and persons seeking information can call 467-9226.

Storm.....

Several private piers received damage, but St. Stanislaus and all municipal piers appear unscathed.

Approximately 500 people spent the night in Civil Defense shelters in the area.

Curfews went into effect in many coastal cities. Pass Christian asked people to stay off the street after 8 p.m.; Bay St. Louis, 9 p.m. and Waveland at 10 p.m.

Residents scurried about on Friday, stocking food and flashlight batteries; filling their car's tanks preparing to leave; and boarding windows expecting the storm to move ashore packing winds gusting to 100 miles per hour accompanied by eight to nine foot tides.

Hancock County Sheriff's deputies spent Friday afternoon telling people to evacuate low-lying areas and assist those unable to leave by themselves.

Sheriff Ronnie Peterson said a number of elderly people asked for help in moving from their own homes to stay with friends and relatives on higher ground or in shelters.

His deputies, he said, reported that some people refused to leave. The deputies had been instructed to ask those people for the names and telephone numbers of next-of-kin and for the names of their preferred funeral homes. Officials are concerned that people will think they took precautions for Florence for nothing and won't take the next storm seriously.

"We feel like we boarded up for nothing," said Vera Mestayer of Waveland, "but we'd do it again."

Boudin said he is now watching Tropical Storm Gilbert which is just moving into the Caribbean with 40 mph winds.

the bank since they intended to demolish the building anyway.

Our Lady of the Gulf Church plans to conduct a get together for people to whom the building held special importance.

"For some people their whole social, religious and educational life was centered around the place," said Father Peter Mockler pastor of O.L.A. "We've had many people come by since it happened to express their feelings, tearfully."

The Romanesque building was constructed as part of St. Joseph's Academy in 1930 by the Sisters of St. Joseph on their diamond jubilee. It was then known as St. Joseph's Memorial Hall.

In addition to classes and athletic activities, the gym was used for St. Joseph's Carnival Association balls, dances and for graduations ceremonies.

The last class to graduate in the gymnasium 1967, the year the academy closed.

The building was used by Our Lady's Academy from about 1976 until the early '80's. It was condemned by the city in 1985.

A fire in November 1907 completely destroyed the original St. Joseph's Academy which had been built in the 1850's.

Symphony opens 26th season

The Gulf Coast Symphony Orchestra will open its 26th season under the direction of its new conductor and music director Dr. Andrew H. Harper Saturday, Sept. 17 at the Biloxi Theatre of Performing Arts at 8 p.m.

Jerry Alan Bush will be the guest pianist. Tickets for this concert and season tickets are on sale at the Greater Gulf Coast Arts Council in Petit Bois, Bldg. C, Suite 4, phone 388-1976, or may be purchased at the door before the concert.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Hurricane Florence is history to us, and we are glad she turned into the Louisiana marsh instead of heading right into us.

Many preparations were made on Friday for Hurricane Florence, and we hope everyone will remember, and not forget what a hurricane can do, even one designated as a category one.

Our Civil Defense department and elected officials are all to be commended for a job well done.

Those who operated the many shelters across our county should also be commended.

We were lucky the winds did not reach hurricane force in our county and the water was only five feet instead of the nine or 10 foot predictions.

We must remember, weather forecasters cannot predict the movements of a hurricane. They make educated guesses only.

We were questioned on Friday night by some folks who are not accustomed to hurricanes about the varying reports they were viewing as to where the storm was going to strike land.

This is not abnormal during a hurricane, because no one really knows all the movements a hurricane will take.

We have to be thankful that we now receive warnings about hurricanes.

The first big storm I can remember was in 1947. We found out it was coming when it got here.

We are much better prepared today for hurricanes and our local agencies are also better prepared.

I put the tape up at home as well as the office and took it down on Saturday just like many residents of the area.

I have found from experience that some tape if it is left too long on glass it is hard to remove.

It is good to be prepared.

Last Sunday, Rev. Bernard Walton and wife were visiting in Bay St. Louis for the Labor Day weekend.

Rev. Walton served the Bay St. Louis Methodist Church for many years and was here during Hurricane Camille.

He was well known throughout the community, and he asked if I would tell all of his friends hello. He is now retired and resides in Hattiesburg.

A lot of history went up in flames on Wednesday night with the burning of the old St. Joseph's gym next to Our Lady of the Gulf Church.

Many of our residents attended St. Joseph's Academy, both male and female. The male students went through the fourth grade.

We can remember many events which took place at the St. Joseph's gym, such as the St. Joseph's Carnival Association's Carnival Balls, the Krewe of Nereids Balls, the school fairs, the many basketball games, and other events.

Many of our residents attended school at St. Joseph's for 12 years, so we know there was a feeling of sadness for them when they became aware of the building's destruction by fire.

While the building was burning, I could remember the tales told to me about the time St. Joseph's Academy, Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, St. Stanislaus and other buildings burned in the big fire of 1907.

I could see the burning embers dropping on the top of Our Lady of the Gulf Church and firefighters constantly dousing the roof.

Sparks were dropping all over the area, yet fire engines were stationed about with firefighters protecting the buildings.

Mutual aid was evident, as fire engines were on the scene from Waveland, Clermont Harbor, Diamondhead, and Pass Christian, just to mention a few.

A good job was done by firefighters and each and everyone should be commended for their great effort.

READY FOR STORM—Many residents prepared for Hurricane Florence by boarding up windows. This Beach Boulevard, Waveland residence had a spray painted sign saying "Hello FLO" in preparation for Hurricane Florence. Residents were happy the storm, which was headed straight for Hancock County veered through Louisiana. (Staff photo by D.C. Harvill).

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Secretary of State replies to tidelands problem

Editor's note: The following is a reply sent to this paper responding to a recent letter from a reader published in this column.

Dear Mr. Kennedy:

I thank you for your correspondence of August 26, 1988. I appreciate your interest and concern in the Commission on Public Trust Tidelands. Please know that I too share many of your concerns regarding the impact of this issue on business and economic development.

The reason this issue has garnered so much attention recently is because the United States Supreme Court, earlier this year, ruled in a comprehensive legal opinion that the state held the property below the average high water mark in trust for all the people of the state. This ruling finally laid to rest any question on these lands and supported what the law has been in Mississippi since statehood.

With this ruling, real estate development would have been completely dead if the state had not acted quickly to formulate sound rules and regulations to govern these lands. That is why I moved to form the commission. The commission does not have all of the answers to every question after just four meetings. They are, however, hard-working and fair-minded, reasonable men and women and I have every confidence that they will reach an equitable set of recommendations as quickly as is humanly possible.

Mayor Vic Frankiewicz's statement at the August 23rd meeting was essentially correct based upon the information we have available. Rest assured, and I have said this publicly, I do not intend to see anyone displaced from their homes and businesses. A fair and equitable solution to this matter exists and I intend to find it with the help of the commission. I believe that when the commission completes its work you and others on the Coast will be happy with its sensible approach to the handling of this complex issue.

In the meantime, if you have any information which you believe would be of use to the commission or me, please feel free to submit it to my office in Gulfport at Post Office Box 97, Gulfport, MS 39502-0097.

Sincerely yours,
Dick Molpus

Liberty and justice is not for all....

To the Editor:

Why do we, at about this time every four years, have all this ballyhoo and clamor and claims as to moral majority superiority, and the feverish waving of and pious pledges to the flag? Is it real morality and patriotism, or just the same old politics?

If we really believe the last and most important words of the pledge to the flag, "with liberty and justice for all," why did we put up with a government that financed but did not, as required by the Constitution, declare war? And, why in that war did we go largely along with a draft which excused from combat the rich and the educated, but not the poor and uneducated? Is this "liberty and justice for all?"

Even today, do not our drafts (conscripted) net the bodies and blood of the young, but not the material resources of the rich, i.e., their millions and billions? Is this "liberty and justice for all?"

Doesn't it seem that most people like Senators Dole and Innouye, and others wounded in combat, and the God Star families are not waving the flag so frantically? But they don't have to prove anything, do they? Reverend Dwyn M. Mounger

Encourage Hancock fishing by restoring marshes, bayous

To the Editor:

Come on now, Vic, every tenable, viable, stable beach on the Hancock County coastline owes its existence and stability to a weir, or jetty, or culvert wall, or some sort of obstruction to the normal flow of the waters of the Mississippi Sound. These obstructions are most effective when perpendicular to the mean flow enhanced by tide and prevailing surface winds. This stuff is right out of Freshman Environmental Science at USM Gulfport. MIT surely had some equivalent core course.

You need an obstruction at the limits of the beach and marsh that you wish to create. You create and then let nature stabilize. You will need a USACE permit to erect such a barrier, just as you did for the oyster grass transplant. Why did you not get all the permits at the same time?

You did make some important statements relative to the entire Hancock County coast; marshes can be created, and one may infer that marshes can be restored. Beach roads and pumped-in beaches are not viable, not tenable.

Hancock County can never be a Gulf Shores, Ala., nor, God forbid, a Harrison County; but might again become the best fishery on the northern Gulf Coast by re-opening and restoring the great marshes and bayous between about Waveland Avenue and Bayou Cadet (Caddy).

The above would require a new beach front road, elevated, and hopefully one or two lanes over the marsh fronts for fishing and crabbing. Old Clermont Harbor might even be recreated.

The millions of dollars already targeted for beach road repairs and maintenance, for sand beach restoration, and for commercial development of the beach front, and for diverting the muddy, polluted Mississippi River into the Mississippi Sound could all be applied to one effort to restore the Mississippi Sound and the Hancock County shoreline to its former status as the best fishery on the northern gulf shore.

Restored marshes could handle all the surface water collected in the county, the sewerage effluent, and return it to the Mississippi Sound as the much needed fresh water.

Sincerely,
Lee Paul

State trade mission moves toward Japan

China will send representatives to Mississippi to study the possibility of locating a steel plant in the state, said Gov. Ray Mabus from Beijing.

Mabus said officials with the Chinese Ministry of Metallurgy stated that they were "committed" to send a team of experts to the state at a time to be determined later.

China has been considering such a venture, and, if built, it would be either a wholly owned Chinese facility or a joint venture with private industry in the United States, said Mabus, who prepared to take the trade mission to Japan.

The delegation, comprised of state officials and Mississippi businessmen, will spend the week of Sept. 5 in Japan before returning to the state.

Other members of the Mississippi delegation while in China, talked to the Chinese regarding the timber and poultry markets. Don R. Branch of Jackson is representing Mississippi's forest industry and Donald Francis Ford is representing the poultry industry as president of the American Poultry International, Ltd., out of Jackson.

The governor also met with Winston Lord, the United States ambassador to China. Mabus and others in the Mississippi delegation were briefed on China's changing economic climate and Mississippi's potential role in that development.

On Wednesday, Aug. 31, Mabus signed a letter of intent to enter into a sister state/province relationship with the head of China's newest province, Hainan Island. Such a relationship is one of the best ways to establish economic ties with another nation, said P.D. Fyke, the governor's special assistant for economic development.

Julie Mabus, who has accompanied the governor on his meetings, was scheduled to meet Friday, Sept. 2 with Ministry of Education Director Long Zhenzhong and Li Jian Ying, pre-school education director for the Beijing Education Bureau.

She also will visit the Beijing Children's School, called the Guo Zi Shi Children's School.

GUARD FACES
Q. Over 700 Mississippi Army National Guardsmen saw action at New Orleans in the War of 1812. The soldiers were commanded by Andrew Jackson in this famous battle. What was unique about this battle?
A. The battle, fought in 1815, was the last battle of the War of 1812 and actually took place after the signing of the Paris Peace Treaty, which "ended" the war.

Side Street Crossings

By Dena Bisnette

Stupid things some people do don't make sense to me—particularly some of the things they do with road signs.

There are two basic purposes for road signs—direction and safety. One tells you how to get somewhere and when you're there, and the other makes certain you get there alive.

I understand perfectly what most people do with signs. They use those signs as they were intended to be used. Those people, of course, aren't the ones I'm discussing here.

During the most recent heavy rain I took a picture of Interstate 10 traffic that had backed up because one lane of the Jourdan River Bridge couldn't be used. You may have noticed it.

It seems to me that it had been only two weeks since I wrote a story telling everybody that the left lane of the east-bound bridge was closed for repair. The signs on I-10 near the bridge stated the same thing and told drivers to merge right.

The back-up that rainy day occurred because about five state troopers had to direct the 5 p.m. traffic. One of them told me there had been several accidents near the bridge and that's why he was standing in the rain waving cars into the right lane.

He told me he was there because "people aren't paying attention to the signs."

The trooper was right. I have seen this over and over again in Hancock County. People don't seem to pay attention to signs, and somebody who does pay attention to them is paying the wrong kind of attention—the kind resulting in sarcasm, theft and destruction.

I remember another photo, one I took in Ansley of a carefully painted, hand-lettered sign that read "No Dumping." It was sticking out of a heap of garbage, and I don't mean litter. Litter consists of gum wrappers and cans and such things. This was garbage, including old furniture, smelly food containers and parts of an automobile seat.

The person ignoring that type of sign is a little more passive than the fellow I saw after a hurricane once. He got out of his car, dragged a "Street Closed" barricade out of his way and went on.

Still, I think the guy who doesn't obey "No Dumping" is just as harmful to the rest of us as the guy who won't pay attention to "Road Closed." What if the next sign both of them decide to ignore says "Stop?"

Here's a worse thought: What if you're at an unfamiliar intersection and the sign isn't there to tell you to stop?

That seems to happen fairly often through no fault of the cities or the county. City and county crews try hard to keep signs up but they have a discouraging job.

First, they need citizens who will report missing or damaged signs. That part isn't as difficult as stopping vandalism and theft.

Some people use signs for target practice. One day I was at the county's central maintenance barn in Kiln and County Maintenance Superintendent Bill Johnson showed me a road name sign that had a dozen bullet holes, was partially cut in half and was totally unreadable.

It's an old problem. Not long after I moved here I did a story about a missing stop sign in BaySide Park that had contributed to the cause of at least one accident. Several weeks later, 25 new signs were obtained for that subdivision.

Only one day after the signs were posted, the Beat One supervisor invited me to take pictures. Only a few of the signs were left.

We found about four signs that had not been molested.

The rest made the place look like a war zone. One was twisted off, with a piece of pole still hanging from it, and thrown in a ditch. Some were bent in half. Most remaining poles were naked and even some of the poles had been removed.

My message to these vandals: Those signs are expensive and I had to pay for them with my taxes. Also, you are making it extremely dangerous for me to drive.

That's an awfully stupid thing to do, and there are a lot of people who agree with me.

We can report the tag number of a vandal's car or call the appropriate office if a sign is gone, but what else can we do to stop you?

Commission, Chamber announce economic development office

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce and Port and Harbor Commission are scheduled to announce Monday the formation of the Office of Economic and Developmental Services.

The purpose of the office will be to provide business assistance to businesses and industries in Hancock County, and will house the Small Business Administration, Management Assistance Center, Mississippi Procurement Center, Small Business Development Center and Gulf Coast Business Services Corporation.

On a specified day these agencies will schedule appointments through the Port and Harbor and the Chamber.

"It is significant that we are breaking new ground as a service provider to the business and industry community," said Port and Harbor Director Harold "Buz" Olsen.

To compliment this service an association of retired executives from the Diamondhead area have offered their expertise and knowledge to assist company or business in every facet of business development.

"Additionally, we will print a resource guide defining those agencies available in the area for assistance and other pertinent data," Olsen said.

The guide's first printing will be financed by M. H. Smith, a local businessman, who will also be included in the guide as a resource.

"This collaborative effort could not have happened had we not had the commitment of these resource agencies and local business community," Olsen said. "The Chamber and the Commission added Olsen."

INITIAL PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE

The County of Hancock, Mississippi is considering applying to the Governor's Office of Federal-State Programs, Department of Community Development for a Small Cities Community Development Block Grant of up to $1,300,000.00. The State of Mississippi has been allocated approximately $26 million that will be made available to cities and counties on a competitive basis to undertake eligible community development activities. More specific details regarding eligible activities, program requirements, and the rating system will be provided at a public hearing which will be held at Hancock County Courthouse on September 14, 1988, at 6:00 P.M. Crosby Arboretum to feature renowned woodcarver

For those interested in the art and craft of woodcarving, the Crosby Arboretum in Picayune is offering an opportunity to learn from a well-known Mississippi artisan. With more than 35 years experience, Joe H. Williams has gained insight into both the practical and artistic considerations of woodworking.

Williams designs his own work using a variety of hardwoods including black walnut (his favorite), mahogany, cherry and oak. Most of his work, by his own preference, is left with a natural finish with only a light oil or lacquer spray covering for protection. He uses a large assortment of hand-carving and power tools.

Walking sticks, boxes of various sizes and types (with and without carved figures), and various animals (including pigs, bears, whales and dragons) are some of the woodwork and carvings for which Williams has received numerous awards and well-deserved acclaim. He is an exhibiting member of the Craftsman's Guild of Mississippi, the Vicksburg Craft Society, and past president and a charter member of the Mississippi Woodworkers Association. Williams has exhibited throughout the southeast. He retired from the Jackson Police Department in 1980.

This program will be hosted at the Pinecote Pavilion Saturday, Sept. 17, 10 a.m. to noon. It is offered free of charge to members of the Arboretum. A donation of $2 for adults, $1 for children under 12, and $5 for families is requested of those who are not members. The public is invited to attend. The Arboretum is located at 1301 Goodyear Blvd. in Picayune. For information call 798-6961.

Sierra Club

Mississippi Senator Gene Taylor will speak at the Sept. 29 public meeting of the Sierra Club. Senator Taylor will discuss his record and field questions regarding environmental issues from the audience.

The meeting will be at the Gulf Coast Marine Center at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 20. For information call 435-2623.

Kay Sones to chair St. Jude "Wheels For Life" bike-a-thon

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital officials announce that Mrs. Kay Sones of Bay St. Louis will chair the hospital's "Wheels For Life" bike ride in Waveland on Saturday, September 24 at 9 a.m. The event will begin at the end of North Beach Boulevard.

This ride will raise funds to support the hospital's battle against childhood cancer and other illnesses being studied there.

Founded in 1962 by entertainer Danny Thomas, St. Jude Hospital has become the world's largest center for the study of childhood cancer and is the only institution dedicated solely to the treatment and study of catastrophic childhood diseases. The hospital is non-sectarian and interracial.

In addition to direct treatment of patients throughout the United States and 29 foreign countries, St. Jude has provided the world's doctors with the best methods of treating their own young cancer patients. This life-saving knowledge is given freely and with no charge to any other hospital or private physician.

St. Jude Hospital's dramatic progress has been made possible primarily by voluntary contributions raised through events such as "Wheels For Life" bike rides organized by concerned citizens throughout the nation.

Riders in the event sign up sponsors who promise to make a donation based on each mile completed, for a total of four miles. All riders turning in money will receive a certificate and a St. Jude T-shirt. When $75 is raised, the rider receives a sports bag, T-shirt and a certificate.

"We hope to have a good time while helping a wonderful group of children counting on our support," Mrs. Sones said.

Sones may be contacted at 467-2275 for details on riding or sponsoring a rider.

DONATION—Hancock Medical Center Administrator Phillip Wolfe, left, accepts a check from the Hancock Medical Center Auxiliary, presented by Auxiliary President Ina Piazza. The money will be used to buy five chairs that can be unfolded into visitor cots and will be placed in patient rooms. The auxiliary has already donated several of the chairs as well as a wheelchair and five outdoor benches. The auxiliary also serves the hospital in other capacities. Reflections

I'm glad you're around

By Fr. Jerome LeDoux, SVD

Have I told you lately that I'm glad you're around? If I have not, then allow me to put you on notice that one of my greatest consolations in life is the fact that you are here. Even if you are not always physically near, I am glad that you are around.

I am glad that you are around to smile at me and thus assure me that I make someone feel good enough to glow. You may not realize it, but your smile, slight though it be, is frequently the foundation which puts my day on a pleasant footing.

Thank God for the peaceful beauty of your face which reflects the peace and beauty of your very soul. I am so glad that you are around to show me in your face all the things which I long for most of all as I go about my daily living.

I am glad that you are around me with the grace and flair of your manner, of your gestures and of all the little things which you do so well that life remains a continuing adventure.

"Why me?" I have heard you say many times over.

"Why not you?" I ask. Never put yourself down. It is none other than God who has endowed you with all the gifts and qualities which compel me to realize constantly how glad I am that you are around.

I am glad that you are around with the refreshing vibrancy of your whole being; the sparkling excitement of your personality; the stabilizing, reassuring strength of your character.

Never doubt for a moment that I feel thankful about your being around. I do prize your presence, together with all the fine assets which your presence affords to me.

I am glad that you are around to make my life special through your words of comfort, of affirmation, of praise, of friendship, of encouragement, of correction and of forgiveness. Do not ever hesitate to speak to me in all these ways as you have been doing.

Believe me when I say that I am glad that you are around. The very sight of you is enough to remind me of the numerous blessings which I have received through you, my special gift from God.

As if that were not enough, the beauty of it all is that these blessings which you have brought to me are not one-time blessings. They repeat and they continue to increase and multiply through your presence. Yes, I am very glad that you are around.

I am glad that you are around in good times and in bad. It is my privilege to divide your sorrows and to multiply your joys by sharing them at every turn. Whatever hurts you, I want to diminish. Whatever promotes your well-being, I want to enhance.

Thank God that you are around as part and parcel of my life. Whether you believe it or not, it is most difficult for me to imagine my life going on without you. You are a blessed fixture in my life and a treasured portion which makes life so much better.

Now we know that Jesus alone is our portion and our constant friend. Still, you are the reflection of Jesus; indeed, my portion and my constant friend throughout the twists and turns of life.

I am glad that you are around to be proof positive that great companionship is possible in life. Your unselfish ways show that the core of being a good companion is to be a virtual extension of the sensitivities, needs, feelings and thoughts of another.

Whether you understand it or not, all of creation comes alive through you and your exciting influence on me and my whole being.

Thank God for your presence in my life. Everything is more real, more relevant, more meaningful because of you. Because of you, I cannot say at any time that life has little meaning.

SMH offers stop smoking classes

'Breathe Free' Stop Smoking classes are being offered through the Education Department at Slidell Memorial Hospital and Medical Center, which initiated its own smoke-free policy Aug. 1.

The classes are scheduled 7 to 9 p.m. Sept. 11-15 and 20; and 4 to 6 p.m., Sept. 20, 22, 25, 26-29 and Oct. 3.

Burnham Rand is instructing the two 'Breathe Free' sessions, which are being co-sponsored by Slidell Memorial and the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

The smoke-free policy instituted at Slidell Memorial recently specified that smoking be allowed only in a section of the cafeteria and in the second floor canteen. The decision to go smoke-free at SMH was based on a recommendation by the employee activities committee.

Persons interested in signing up for the 'Breathe Free' Stop Smoking classes at SMH may contact the Education Department at (504) 649-8433 to pre-register. Pre-registration is required as space is limited.

IN BRIEF

GOSPEL SONGWRITER

It is a gospel songwriter's dream to have a song recorded by a successful artist such as Amy Grant. An extension of that dream would be for the composition to rise to No. 1 on the gospel music charts.

Songwriter Justin Peters, a native of Jackson, has had such a dream come true. An added bonus is that Peters' song, 'Saved By Love,' has remained in the No. 1 spot for the last two months. 'Saved By Love' is from the album 'Lead Me On' which is currently the No. 1 gospel album in the country.

WEDDINGS, ENGAGEMENTS

Ruoss-Power

First Presbyterian Church in Bay St. Louis was the setting for the August 6 marriage of Stephanie Carol Power and Hans Martin Ruoss IV. The Reverend Richard Jones officiated the double ring ceremony at 7 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy R. Power of Bay St. Louis. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Curtis Power of Weir, Mr. C. Aubrey Whitmire of Louisville, and the late Mrs. Annie Laura Whitmire.

The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. Martin Ruoss III of Amory. His grandparents are Mrs. William H. Record of Aberdeen, the late Mr. William H. Record, and the late Mrs. Konstantina Ruoss.

Decorating the church were two bouquets of cascading white carnations, starburst, and starburst mums with center candles. Brass candelabra decorated both sides of the altar. Grapevine wreaths with ivy and white bows were hung in the windows of the church.

Nuptial music was presented by organist Debbie Rice, aunt of the bride, and by soloist Bill Rice, uncle of the bride, both of Jackson.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white bridal satin, featuring an overlay of beaded Alencon lace on the fitted bodice, and a beaded Alencon lace border on the bottom of the skirt and the train, which was attached in the back with a waistline bow. The train and the sleeves were decorated with beaded lace appliques, and the sleeves were adorned with lace points which extended onto the top of the hands. The back of the bodice featured a looped button closure with pearl buttons.

White miniature roses and pearls formed a wreath to which her waist-length veil was attached. The bride carried a silk cascade of rose buds, open roses, stephanotis, and ivy accented with pearl sprays.

Karen Roethemeyer of Huntsville, Ala. was maid of honor. She wore a tea-length dress of pastel blue, pink and yellow print and carried a crescent bouquet of pink rose buds and forget-me-nots.

Kermit Ruoss of Amory, brother of the groom, was best man.

Ushers were Doug Power of Bay St. Louis, brother of the bride, and Edward Purvis of Atlanta, Ga., uncle of the groom.

A reception followed at the church fellowship hall.

On return from a wedding trip to Navarre Beach, Fla. the couple resides in Starkville, where the bride is a student at Mississippi State University, and the groom is employed with Sack and Save Foods.

Pre-nuptial parties
On July 16, Mrs. Bet Delcuze honored the bride with a miscellaneous shower at her home. Co-hostesses were Kim Delcuze, Melanie Delcuze and Pat Favre.

The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner the evening before the wedding.

Mrs. Mary Lee Lagarde and Mrs. Ruth Johns hosted a luncheon at Mrs. Lagarde's home the afternoon of Aug. 6.

MR. AND MRS. HANS MARTIN RUOSS

COUNTY PREPARES FOR GILBERT

BY ELLIS CUEVAS
Hancock County and Bay-Waveland School Districts will decide early this morning whether classes will be held today due to the threat of Hurricane Gilbert.

Robert Boudin, Bay-Waveland, Hancock County Civil Defense director said, "I meet today (Wednesday) with Bay-Waveland school board members and administrators to talk about the use of their facilities as storm shelters."

"Schools are owned by the taxpayers and Civil Defense is given authority to use them during emergencies, and we have to ask the public to help us keep these facilities clean," Boudin stated.

"We have had to come up with some rules and regulations and a copy will be issued to persons having to use these facilities," Boudin said.

Boudin indicated there was a problem as some facilities were not left clean after use last weekend due to the threat of Hurricane Florence.

When schools are used as shelters, they may have to be used for class the next day, Boudin said.

On Wednesday, Rhea Scafidi, Hancock County School Food supervisor, was touching base with some of the facilities which may be used for mass feedings in case of a disaster.

All Catholic schools along the Mississippi Gulf Coast will be closed Thursday and Friday on orders issued by Bishop Joseph Howze on Wednesday.

Roy Baxter of Pearllington said, "I saw a lot of boats traveling north on Pearl River today due to Gilbert's threat."

Boudin said the locks at the John C. Stennis Space Center were opened Wednesday for commercial and recreational boats.

Jeannie Garcia, Hancock County Red Cross director, reported she was very busy on Wednesday calling shelter volunteers in case it would be necessary to open shelters.

Boudin reported he had been in touch with supervisors on Wednesday and would be meeting with them and officials from Bay St. Louis and Waveland today and decide if it is necessary to open shelters due to Gilbert's threat to the area.

All residents are urged to stay tuned to their radio for television for information. School information will be issued on WLOX radio and television at 6:15 a.m. and also on WJHG radio.

Some residents of the area began to leave early on Tuesday, Boudin said.

P & H approves budget minus county funding

BY D.C. HARVILL
The Port and Harbor Commission at its regular meeting Monday approved its general operating budget for fiscal year 1988-89 minus $127,200 of revenue which it had been budgeted by the county board of supervisors.

The commission relinquished the $127,200 last month to help the county fulfill its obligation to Pearl River Junior College, according to Port and Harbor Executive Director Harold "Buz" Olsen. The remaining $270,874 of the commission's $398,074 budget is generated through activities at the commission operated Port Bienville Industrial Park and Stennis Industrial Airport.

The commission also approved a projected three year capital improvement proposal totaling $2,118,285, including $175,000 for construction of a new commission headquarters building to be constructed during this fiscal year.

Finance committee member Dave McDonald said the capital improvements program is tentative, pending the availability of funds.
